

Working with Couples

Workshop in Christchurch with Walter Logeman

Friday 1 and Saturday 2 November, 2024

If you work with couples, or would like to, this workshop is for you. The aim is to build on the work you already do and to gain confidence and competence with couples. This is professional development work. You will be invited to identify your strengths and build on them to enhance your practice.

We use psychodramatic methods and principles to learn together.

The theme for this event is spontaneity & creativity. By that I mean bringing something new so the couple can be new and refreshed. Find a specific new way of being to practice until it is easy, natural and effective.
